Let's Start!

I like comic books! I like magazines!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about free-time activities or personal likes/dislikes in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What do you like to read? Why do you like this type of reading?
- Do you like reading to others? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can express possession using my, mine, your, yours.
- I can talk about what I am not doing or what people are not doing.
- I can say what I like or dislike.

Let's Explore!

Peter and Sally talk about their hobbies. What does Peter like doing?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Oh, look! They have books here too!
Peter: Yes, it's a cafe and a bookstore. Cool, right?
Sally: Yeah! Is this yours? This comic book?
Peter: Yes. Do you like comic books?
Sally: Mmm, not really ... I like to read magazines. What do you like to read?
Peter: Well, comic books and the paper.
Sally: I like to shop! Do you?
Peter: Mmm ... I'm not looking for anything right now. What's your favorite shop?
Sally: Any shop at the mall! I collect shoes.
Peter: Hah! My sister collects shoes too. I collect comic books. I have a lot at home! Oh. Is this your bag?
Sally: No, it's not mine. It's hers.
Peter: Excuse me. Is this your bag?
Woman: Oh yes, it is. Thank you very much.

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Possessive Pronouns

You use possessive pronouns to talk about things that belong to someone. Possessive pronouns can take the place of nouns.

Compare possessive adjectives and pronouns in this chart:

	Possessive Adjectives	Possessive Pronouns
I	It's my juice.	It's mine.
You	That's your coffee.	That coffee is yours.
He	It's his computer.	The computer is his.
She	It's her bag.	The bag is hers.
We	Those are our books.	Those books are ours.
They	It's their car.	The car is theirs.

Examples:

- This coffee is my coffee.
- This coffee is mine.
- This bag is not mine. It is hers.
- That computer is yours.

The Present Continuous Tense in the Negative

You make the Present Continuous tense negative by adding not after the verb to be and before the verb-ing.

You can also use a contracted form like isn't.

Examples:

- I am not looking for anything right now.
- He is not eating dinner.
- She isn't playing video games.
